

St. Joseph's Collegiate Chapel

is honored to sponsor

"Elizabeth Woodville Grey, the White Queen: the Wars of the Roses through Her Eyes"

Witness the events that preceded the birth of the Anglican Church.

Our 45 minute recitation includes video clips from the hit BBC/Starz TV series "The White Queen". We begin with England after the Hundred Years War and birth of Elizabeth Woodville in 1436, and end with the Houses of York and Lancaster joining to create the House of Tudor and end the Wars of the Roses. Elizabeth Woodville Grey was ancestral mother to eleven English, Scottish, and French kings and queens, including Henry VIII and Elizabeth I. She led a life of adversity, bravery, and intrigue.

Cast Members include: Queen Elizabeth – Patsy Ronat; King Edward IV – Gordon Gray "Bud" Warder (a descendant of Elizabeth Woodville Grey); Narrator – Kim Crow; Earl of Warwick & Lord Hastings – Fr. Lawrence Shaddix, Vicar; Production Assistant – Peggy Stevens.

Sunday, January 14, 2018, 1:00 p.m.

*Light refreshments provided; free admission, RSVP requested
Email Peggy – peggy@kioskamerica.com; Call or Text Bud – 925-998-6603*

St. Joseph of Arimathea Collegiate Chapel (Anglican)
2543 Durant (corner of Bowditch), Berkeley
510-841-3083; sjate@sbcglobal.net; www.sjachapel.org (map)
*Parking: street (no Sunday meters), Promenade Garage on Bowditch, Underhill Parking Garage on Channing